EFFFA
EUROPEAN FLY FISHING ASSOCIATION

What is EFFA?

The EFFA is an association of fly fishermen from 23 countries that pursues various goals. For example, promotion of sport, training and certification in all areas of fly fishing, networking between countries and the interests associated with sport, nature and environmental protection, water conservation, etc.

FLY FISHING WITHOUT BORDERS

THE BIG EFFA FAMILY

The members of the EFFA are spread all over Europe, the fishing experience even goes well beyond. There are hardly any places where our members have not fished yet. What could be better than getting first-hand information about a destination from a local expert or even going fishing with him for a few hours?

The large EFFA family is of invaluable value especially when it comes to fishing trips. Whether you want to fish for salmon, trout, grayling or tarpon, you will find the answers to your open questions in the EFFA forum.

EFFA OPEN

In 2012, EFFA launched its open European fly tying championship. It became well known within a short time and also fly tyers on the other side of the Atlantic have entered the winner lists in the past. Every fly tyer from beginner to professional is eligible to participate. The only condition: The flies must meet the criteria of the announcement and be sent in duplicate.
